

11 | Sue and Mike Rowles: 52 Barn Meadow Lane, KT23 3EY

An Artist's and Plantaholic's garden with a Surrey Open Studio. Not neat and tidy, but full of colourful planting and whimsical sculptures. A majestic Redwood shades the wildlife friendly front and a new naturalistic pond enhances the back. Children's trail of animal ornaments offers small prizes.

12 | Andre and Kathy Hedger: 57 The Park, KT23 3LL

For gardens 12 & 13: Parking is not permitted on The Park so please park in Park Way opposite.

NEW. A spacious modern garden with a lawn surrounded by beds with a variety of unusual shrubs and beautiful specimen trees, attractively underplanted. Partly wildlife-friendly with assorted bird, bat and owl boxes. Four container-planted olive trees, some interesting cloud pruned shrubs, a tropical border and a courtyard vegetable patch with wall-trained fruit.

13 | Jeanette and Mike Chamberlain: 59 The Park, KT23 3LL

This much loved garden features a beautiful 100 year old willow tree, a well-stocked pond, seating and entertaining areas and a rose arbour with colourful flower beds and shrubs. It also has greenhouses, fruit trees, a vegetable plot and a Japanese garden. Plants for sale.

14 | Jenny and Tod Wilson: Hawthorns, Meadowside, KT23 3LG

Unusual trees and shrubs make this a special traditional garden but with many practical features it attracts some regular visits by roe deer, foxes, grass snakes, goldfinches and woodpeckers. It is also butterfly and bee friendly. Parking space around the corner in Elmfield.

15 | Sandy and Richard Hannington: 71 Eastwick Drive, KT23 3NS

Reflecting the owner's interest in herbs there are groups of culinary, medicinal and dye plants. Wildlife is welcome at the end of the garden contrasting with the formal knot garden at the front. Mosaics add unexpected sparkle and interest.

16 | Marie and Doug Hope: Chadiz, Hill Road, KT22 9SZ

Accessible on foot from Westfield Drive, by car from The Glade.

A garden packed with trees, shrubs and perennials, where no space is wasted. Wall baskets and other containers are planted for seasonal colour, and a large fish pond is a focal point. There are tree ferns and tropical plants, while vegetables are grown in planters, alongside a productive greenhouse. Children's trail.

17 | Lynn and Paul Brooks: 4 Chilmans Drive, KT23 4BX

Restricted parking in Chilmans Drive. Please park in Pine Dean or Keswick Rd

A stylish small garden which quite takes you by surprise. A circular lawn surrounding an old apple tree gives way to a gravel garden with lots of climbers and beautifully maintained shrubs, a small pond and intriguing corners.

18 | Polesden Lacey Infants School: Oakdene Close, KT23 4PT

Raised vegetable plots, mini orchard, a sensory garden, woodland area, bug hotel, wild flower area and a pond provide learning opportunities and enhance the school environment.

19 | Janet Billham: 11 The Paddocks, KT23 4SU

A split level garden with a brick dividing wall and raised beds. The lawn has been replaced with Welsh slate interspersed with heathers, alpines and evergreen shrubs. There are two solar water features and some slim conifers along the boundary. Flat shoes recommended. Cards for sale.

1 | Margaret & Brian Barker: 7 Fife Way, KT23 3PH

Much has changed since this interesting garden was last open in 2019 and the removal of hedging has allowed new planting of rhododendrons and roses. Both front and back gardens are full of colour and fragrance and ample seating gives the chance to stop and enjoy.

2 | Judy Kelly: St Nicolas Cottage, 2 Church Road, KT23 3PW

This delightful cottage garden is full of mature trees, roses, shrubs, colourful beds and numerous planted pots. Steps lead from the terrace up to the lawn and a pond has been added, linking the two, altogether making a fitting setting for the ancient cottage.

3 | Angela and Ian Baker: 256 Lower Road, KT23 4DL

A winding path leads all the way past the small pond to the end of this delightful and informal garden, designed to look a little wild and attract wildlife. Interesting plants are chosen for their colour and texture.

4 | Laura Christie & Tommy Duncan: 49 Sole Farm Avenue, KT23 3DG

Inspiration in an unusually-shaped plot. A wildlife-welcoming treasure. Lushly planted for colour, scent and variety with beautiful trees, shrubs, climbers, perennials. Other highlights: stylish wildlife pond, bug house. Children's trail of (static!) bears, dragons, foxes, birds, etc, and wildlife habitats. Plants for sale.

5 | The Grange Centre: Closes at 4.00 pm. Rectory Lane, KT23 4DZ

A restored Victorian walled garden with flowers, fruit and vegetables, cared for by the horticultural team. Mini allotment plots give scope for individual creativity, and a bug hotel encourages pollinating insects. Please tread carefully on grassy areas, where bee orchids may be found. Plants for sale. Parking on site.

6 | Liberham Lodge: Closes at 4.00 pm. Rectory Lane, KT23 4DY

The gardens at Liberham Lodge feature lavenders and other shrubs alongside lawns and mature trees. A raised vegetable bed designed for wheelchair users is planted by residents who can also add individual touches with colourful pots. Parking on site.

7 | Linda Longmire: Langdale, Little Bookham Street, KT23 3BY

A lovingly maintained, mature garden, which greets visitors with a blaze of colour from seasonal containers, shrubs and perennials. A fine collection of acers displays contrasting leaf forms and colours.

8 | Frances and Keith Poulton: Oakhurst, Edgeley, KT23 3BE

A pond, mini wild flower meadow and woodland area attract a variety of wildlife. There are shrubs, a lavender bed, perennials and colourful pots as well as greenhouses, fruit, and vegetables grown in raised beds.

9 | Little Bookham Allotments: Maddox Lane, KT23 3HT

Discover one of Bookham's best kept secrets nestled on the edge of Bookham Common. Visitors will find not only allotments to explore but also a wildflower meadow and an abundance of flowers to enjoy. Plants for sale. Parking on site.

10 | Jill Elliot: 16 Twelve Acre Close, KT23 3HH

NEW. A small courtyard entrance leads to a charming garden with seating areas overlooking the lawn, mixed beds, interesting shrubs, a selection of planted tubs and containers and a small water feature. Roses and various climbers complete the scene.
